

LAST EDITION
NEW YORK'S BOYS IN CAMP.

Millionaires of Troop A Scrubbing
Down Their Own Horses.

They Have No Looking Glasses and Use Tin Basins as Mirrors.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
PETERSBURG, STATE CAMP, July 7.—Life with the New York boys in camp started in full swing this morning. The men immediately got down to duty, and they did the pulling work with a will.

The Ninth Regiment and Troop A have the camp all to themselves.

The hours devoted to sleep were quiet, no one being in the guard tent this morning.

After tattoo and tap all was still among the tented host, except in a few cases, where a faint murmur could be heard as some innocent cot was tripped in under him.

The handsome men comprising Troop A, the millionaire cavalry soldiers of the camp, retired to their cots as soon as permitted.

While Sergt. Holly, Corp. Wynkoff and Troop and Private Spier, Knight, Thornhill, Robinson, Swift, Keenan and Two-dept guard. At guard mount at 8:30 this morning they were relieved by Sergt. Badgley, Corp. Calhoun and Private Privates Knight, Kerr, Lee, Lindington, Marcell, Marquard, Porter, Patterson and Reed, and thus the millionaires keep the rebels from their quarters.

Capt. Roe, the two-million-dollar captain, said: "I had a very refreshing sleep."

Eddie Gould, when asked how he liked the life, said: "I am going to enlist as a regular."

First Sergt. Badgley rubbed his sore spots when asked how he felt, and said that the boys were asleep as he and struck their cots.

Another millionaire was sewing buttons on some wearing apparel this morning.

W. H. Butler, said: "I had a fine night's sleep," and said he liked it.

A. Colgate came hobbling down the troop street. He said he liked "very well."

It was 6:30 when Troop A fell in and drilled for a half hour, when they went to a breakfast of oatmeal and brown bread.

After 5 A.M. these wealthy men blackened their own shoes and curried and brushed their own horses. All were well for though Private Thomas was kicked by his horse he was all right in an hour or two.

The morning was a busy one for the boys. At 8:30 guard mount occurred, when Capt. Wald, Officer of the Day, was relieved by Corp. Calhoun, Corp. Calhoun, Jr., and Mr. W. E. Kennedy, Company E, as senior and Junior Officer, respectively.

Boots and saddles sounded at 9:30 in the cavalry camp. At 10 the men were mounted and rode out on the new parade ground for platoon, company and squadron drill.

Six of the horses were sent to the barn, and the rest of the horses were sent to the stable. The heat was very oppressive and were it not for the southern breeze that blew would have been unbearable.

As it was several of the Ninth had to leave the ranks.

The camp presents the appearance of a regular army frontier fort to-day, with cavalry drilling on the parade ground, the infantry on the old parade and the artillery on the bluff.

Gov. Hill's dog, "Judge," was among Troop A's tent this morning making friends with the boys. By the way, they have no looking glasses and use tin basins as mirrors and make their toilets by looking into a tin basin.

The members of the troop are the butts of many good-natured jokes about the "daisy" ray in which they go to work each morning. Not that they are afraid of work, but rather they seem to be afraid of the "daisy" ray.

Although probably no one would be rash enough to suggest that the boys were frightened at the "daisy" ray, they were certainly not at all afraid of the "daisy" ray.

After dinner the boys were in recreation, and after dress parade this evening Garrison Albany Band will give an open-air concert.

GOT AN INFERNAL MACHINE.
Dynamite Sent Through the Mails to a Jersey Assessor.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J., July 7.—John M. C. Marsh, Assessor for Westfield, a prominent and influential citizen, Saturday evening received through the mail an infernal machine.

The mysterious package was postmarked New York, had no return address, and was addressed to M. C. Marsh, Westfield, N. J.

HUNGER IN A BIG PROCESSION.
Striking Clockmakers Arranging for a Parade To-Morrow.

Needy Cases Where Starvation and Eviction Are Threatened.

The Executive Committee of the Clockmakers Union have decided upon having a parade to-morrow afternoon if they can get the necessary permits from the city authorities, and are today busy making arrangements for the great event.

The proposed line of march is from Pythecorps Hall in Canal street to the City Hall, up Broadway to Union Square, disbanding at the Plaza.

Secretary Horneham said this morning that he thought fully 5,000 people would be in line.

The general condition of the strikers is about the same as it has been during the last few days. Many of them are threatened with being put on the sidewalk by their unsympathetic landlords and others are starting for want of food.

Some of the most needy clockmakers are Isaac Farber, 3 Attorney street, five children and eleven weeks without work; Jacob Kessel, 132 Livingston street, ten weeks out of employment and no money to pay rent; Mrs. Friedreich, 131 Orchard street, no money to pay rent; Adolph Roth, 240 Stanton street, eight children and ten weeks out of employment; Morris Patnosky, 145 Fort street, three children and wife in a delicate condition; Bernhard Silberstein, 44 Allen street, ten weeks out of employment and threatened with eviction.

Other unions are taking up the cause of the clockmakers, and several striking resolutions which have been passed show that they intend to force the fight on all lines.

At a meeting of the Central Labor Union held in Clarendon Hall yesterday James P. Archibald presented a resolution calling upon Mayor Hylan for the removal of Abraham Seligman from the Board of Bridge Trustees, to which he was appointed by the Mayor, on the ground that he was "one of the most notorious" of the manufacturers.

Committee was appointed to wait on the Mayor and "request the appointment of some gentleman of more humane feelings."

Archibald's action. He introduced another resolution, calling upon the authorities to prosecute the employers for alleged violation of the conspiracy laws.

In the resolution attention is called to the fact that at a meeting of the Clock Manufacturers Association held on June 14 the members passed a resolution to the effect that they would look into matters and make every effort to keep out of the factory of Meyer Johnson & Company, and to continue in their employment their cutters unless they would agree to the terms of the conspiracy law.

The Central Labor Union regards the matter as a violation of the conspiracy law, and requests the District Attorney and the Attorney General to prosecute the employers.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

ALL BROILING IN THE SUN.
Sweltering and Sizzling in New York Streets To-Day.

Signal Service Duns Says It Will Be Much Hotter To-Morrow.

To-morrow will be a good day to put on flannel shirts and visit the seaside.

July 8 has a record for heat to preserve, and to-morrow will do its best to keep up the reputation of the anniversary. Indeed, the ranged edge of a hot wave, gotten up for the occasion in the far West, reached New York this morning.

The official thermometer on the roof of the Equitable Building, which has been sent to mislead the people into believing the weather was only 82 degrees hot at noon; but 74 per cent. of humidity succeeded fairly well in frustrating this attempt at deception.

Sergt. Dunn reluctantly admitted that to-morrow he should swelter under a broiling sun, and that it would continue to "warm up" for the next thirty-six hours.

A blessed breeze, wafted up from off the bay at five miles an hour at 8 o'clock this morning, had increased its gait to twelve miles at noon, but down on the heated pavement, between the high walls of the city blocks, this breeze is hardly felt, and pedestrians "found it hard to believe that we were not suffering a sirocco."

The weather is generally fair and warm throughout the country, with excessive heat in many places west of the Alleghenies.

At 8:26 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

The forecast is for fair weather and rising temperature for the next thirty-six hours.

In 1876 New York, with 80 degrees of calorific July 8, and in 1887 we had 93 degrees on that day, which we have never had since 1870. To-morrow we shall in all probability reach the average.

FOREIGN NEWS BY CABLE.
BY BRITISH GUNS, CHINA SAYS IT WILL COME TO THIS.

Captured Seal Poachers to Be Retaken, if Necessary.

The Warships at Victoria Will Be Used for That Purpose.

Great Britain's Ultimatum in the Behring Sea Complication.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—From positive information which THE EVENING WORLD correspondent has secured within the past few hours it can be stated with authority that the relations between the United States and Great Britain with regard to the Behring Sea fishing question have assumed an exceedingly grave aspect.

Your correspondent learns that within the ten days preceding the departure of Secretary Blaine for Har Bar Harbor Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, officially notified him of the ultimatum of the British Government, in the Behring Sea trouble, to the effect that should any vessel sailing under the flag of Great Britain be seized in Alaskan waters by United States revenue cutters, the entire British squadron, lying off Victoria, will be instructed to retake the prize at any cost, without regard to possible consequences.

Cable dispatches from London state that the British Government have been sent to the British naval squadron on the Pacific, but the nature of the instructions could not definitely be ascertained.

It is understood that the flagship Warspite has been ordered to the Pacific coast of British America, and that a formidable array of gunboats will be sent to the Pacific coast.

It is learned here that the instructions sent to the British fleet in the Pacific are in accordance with those received by Sir John Pauncefote, from the London Foreign Office, transmitted through the Secretary of State, and the execution of the orders by the British squadron may not lead to war, still the situation is sufficiently serious to warrant grave apprehensions.

In consequence of the attitude assumed by the British Government, it is said here, though no authority could be ascertained, that the British Government are not prepared to negotiate with the United States.

Secretary Blaine has secured a modification of the orders recently issued to our revenue cutters in Alaskan waters in such terms that, pending the settlement of the fisheries dispute, Canadian poachers will not be disturbed and may play their trade without fear.

Sir Julian Pauncefote will leave this city with his family to-morrow for Manchester-by-the-Sea, where he will spend the summer, within a year of Secretary Blaine at Har Bar Harbor.

It is understood that the fisheries negotiations which were recently broken off in an abrupt manner will then be renewed.

The negotiations which were begun nearly a year ago were terminated by Sir Julian Pauncefote when he issued orders to the revenue cutters to seize all Canadian vessels fishing in the waters of the United States.

Blaine and Sir Julian have never approached an agreement on this subject.

Secretary Blaine's proposition contemplated keeping out of Behring Sea the vessels of all nations and allowing no one to take seal except the persons who should be authorized by the United States.

This proposition Sir Julian rejected, and submitted one of his own to the effect that each season as the seal find the way to their rookeries on the islands, no vessel be permitted to take them.

British vessels were also to be prohibited from anchoring within a certain distance of the islands of St. George and St. Paul, of the Pribylov group.

This idea was regarded with some favor by Mr. Blaine, but pending the settlement of the details the action of the Treasury officials, and Sir Julian to break off negotiations.

Mr. Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, will leave this city to-morrow for Manchester-by-the-Sea, where he will spend the summer, within a year of Secretary Blaine at Har Bar Harbor.

It is understood that the fisheries negotiations which were recently broken off in an abrupt manner will then be renewed.

The negotiations which were begun nearly a year ago were terminated by Sir Julian Pauncefote when he issued orders to the revenue cutters to seize all Canadian vessels fishing in the waters of the United States.

Blaine and Sir Julian have never approached an agreement on this subject.

Secretary Blaine's proposition contemplated keeping out of Behring Sea the vessels of all nations and allowing no one to take seal except the persons who should be authorized by the United States.

This proposition Sir Julian rejected, and submitted one of his own to the effect that each season as the seal find the way to their rookeries on the islands, no vessel be permitted to take them.

British vessels were also to be prohibited from anchoring within a certain distance of the islands of St. George and St. Paul, of the Pribylov group.

This idea was regarded with some favor by Mr. Blaine, but pending the settlement of the details the action of the Treasury officials, and Sir Julian to break off negotiations.

Mr. Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, will leave this city to-morrow for Manchester-by-the-Sea, where he will spend the summer, within a year of Secretary Blaine at Har Bar Harbor.

It is understood that the fisheries negotiations which were recently broken off in an abrupt manner will then be renewed.

EVERYBODY WANTS TO SEE EXPLORER STANLEY MARRIED.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
LONDON, July 7.—Applications for tickets to Mr. Stanley's wedding are so numerous as to indicate the overwhelming interest generally felt in the happy event.

The Abbey authorities, however, before this avalanche, have found it necessary to announce that the wedding of Stanley and Miss Tennant will be open to the public.

Mr. Stanley will receive the bride from the hands of Charles Combe Tennant, her only brother.

The petite bridemaid, Sylvia Myers and Miss Finlay, will wear Stanley's presents, crystal lockets, surrounded with pearls and turquoises.

The distinguished traveler and his bride will spend their honeymoon at Melchett Park, Bournemouth, which has been loaned to him by Lord Lytton Ashburton.

Mr. Stanley's traveling dress is a delectable crocheted dress, embroidered with silver. Her bonnet is ornamented with feathers of the same hue.

The wedding presents are accumulating in great numbers and are already too numerous to catalog.

Sir Makinon has sent a diamond tiara. Mr. Stanley's presents to Miss Tennant are sapphire and diamond ornaments and a magnificent diamond star and diamond brooch.

A Murder and a Lynching at Cetinje.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
LONDON, July 7.—A despatch received here says Col. Martinovic, commandant of the body-guard of Prince Nicholas, of Montenegro, and cousin of the Prince, was murdered in the market place, at Cetinje, this morning, and the murderer was lynched.

The tragedy resulted from a private quarrel.

German-American Prize Winners at the Schuetzenfest.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
LONDON, July 7.—Zimmerman and Klein of New York, and Jacob, of San Francisco, were winners of prizes in the Schuetzenfest here yesterday.

Class B—Schooners measuring under 75 feet.—Azalea, Georgia, Lotus.

Class C—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class D—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class E—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class F—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class G—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class H—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class I—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class J—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class K—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class L—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class M—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class N—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class O—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

Class P—Sloops or cutters over 35 and under 60 feet.—Clara.

MELICAN MAN MUST GO TOO. THE DEATH-DEALING CYCLONE.

Minister Tsui Says China Will Retaliate for Our Exclusion Law.

Fargo, Dakota, Reported in Ruins, with Many People Killed.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

WHO THREW THE VITRIOL?

Little Prospect of Discovering Ernest Miller's Assailant.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—A rumor just reached here that Fargo, Dak., is in ruins. A terrible cyclone passed over the city last night, carrying destruction in its wake.

Trains were blown from the track and thousands of dollars' damage done.

Many persons are reported killed.

SHE JAILED THE TRUCKMAN.

Mrs. Friedlander Found Her Stolen Goods in Boon Collins's House